

ducreyi, Trichomonas vaginalis, and hepatitis B. The scientific part of the conference ended with the presentation of a modern stereo multiple-image tape and slide film by Dr A Siboulet (Paris), which had been prepared for educational purposes.

General business

The general assembly of the African Branch of the IUVDT re-elected Professor I Diop

Mar as president and Professor A O Osoba as general secretary. All the other officers were also re-elected for a further period of two years. The statutes and bye-laws of the branch have not yet been completely translated into French and await confirmation by the general assembly when this is completed.

It was unanimously agreed that the next meeting should be in Nairobi, Kenya, in 1983. The exact date is to be decided later.

Most of the delegates stayed at the Taranga Hotel, Dakar, and there was an excellent social programme, which included a cocktail party, a dinner, a buffet supper, and a variety of excursions in the region.

There was general agreement that the African Branch of the IUVDT was now fully launched on its course and that its second international meeting had been an unqualified success.
